Back to School

This Wednesday, September 1st nearly 1.2 million students in over 2600 elementary schools across Taiwan will begin classes. One of them will be our own Micah, who will enter into grade 1. Needless to say, parents are anxious for their kids to start off well and the government and people of Taiwan are anxiously awaiting to see two weeks later whether precautions taken by the schools are enough to prevent any relapse in Taiwan's Covid numbers (of which we have had three days of zero domestic infections in the past week). In addition, we are in the midst of an influx of 13,000 international students flooding university campuses across the island; and all the while trying to steadily improve on our current 1st shot vaccination rate of 40%. Please pray that the people of Taiwan will remain vigilant in maintaining the necessary Covid precautions and that God would eradicate the virus.
