Missionary news:

空席: Empty Seats

No, Not Recent

We've been in a state of emergency since April, so everything has been on Zoom in recent weeks. This shot of the worship team was taken on a Sunday morning just before our gathering, a few months ago. On the left are Jumpei and Mizuho, who we featured last time. We're thankful they're able to continue in our neighbourhood, although Jumpei's work schedule keeps him from some Sundays and thus from being part of the worship team. Next are Yoko in the foreground and Keita in the background. Then Emma on tamborine, and to the right Micah and Akihiro.

Tokyo to Atlanta

Akihiro starts an MBA at Georgia Tech in September. We'll be saying farewell to their family next month, so they will be missed in leading worship and especially as our most experienced believers. So while we rejoiced in the last Made in Japan that Jumpei and Mizuho would be staying, with sadness but hope we see Akihiro and Micah head out to their next step in their journey.

Filling the Seats

The seats in our meeting room have been empty for quite some time, but we have hope we'll be back in that room for Sundays and children's programs in the weeks to come.

We're trusting that we'll see new people join us as we return to our meeting place. Meeting on Zoom has been hard for some people, so we would like to renew contact with them as we meet

お久しぶりですね！

"O hisashiburi desu ne!" is the phrase said after an absence, and we'll be saying that to the families we have contact with through our after school program, and also to some people who have had some interest in joining us for the study of the Bible in the past.

COVID played havoc with our plans to have a monthly evening meal with the after school children and their parents, thus giving us opportunities to connect with families in our vicinity. It's our goal not just to minister to children but to have a chance to build connections with those children's parents as well.
